

CONTEXT OF THE SCHOOL

The International School of Gdansk (ISG) is a prestigious educational institution located in the vibrant city of Gdansk, Poland. Established in 2002, the school has since garnered a stellar reputation for providing international education to students from diverse backgrounds.

Situated in a picturesque setting, the ISG campus offers a modern and welcoming environment for its students. The school's facilities are state-of-the-art, boasting well-equipped classrooms, science and computer labs, a library, an art studio, and a dedicated music room. The campus also features expansive sports fields, a gymnasium, and a swimming pool, promoting a well-rounded education that emphasizes physical fitness and healthy living.

ISG follows an internationally recognized curriculum, primarily based on the International Baccalaureate (IB) program. The school also offers programs from early childhood education through to the high school years.

One of the core strengths of the International School of Gdansk is its diverse and highly qualified faculty. The teachers at ISG are experienced professionals who bring a wealth of knowledge and expertise to the classroom.

The student body at ISG is truly international, comprising students from various nationalities and cultural backgrounds. This multicultural environment not only promotes global awareness and understanding but also encourages students to appreciate diversity and develop open-mindedness.

Beyond academics, ISG offers a wide range of extracurricular activities to the diverse interests of its students. These include sports teams, performing arts groups, debate clubs, and community service initiatives. Such activities complement the academic curriculum and help students develop leadership skills, teamwork, and a well-rounded personality.
